2. The goods and services required by the contract shall be acquired by purchase, delivery or service orders issued by the administrative unit responsible for the acquisition.  6. The prices agreed to shall not be increased during the term of the agreement, unless the agreement expressly states the opposite. The SUBSCRIBER agrees to deliver the goods ordered at the prices and within the term agreed to.
 7. Goods and services under the existing agreement will be acquired by the issuance of purchase by the administrative unit responsible for the purchase. Purchase orders are subject to the terms, conditions and clauses of the agreement. In case of discrepancies between the purchase order and the agreement, the agreement shall govern.
 8. Purchase orders issued during the term of the agreement and not completed during said term shall be completed in accordance with the date of delivery shown on the order. The rights and obligations of the parties identified on the agreement shall extend up to the date of completion indicated on the order.

- b. Any material, accessories or equipment that, in the judgment of the Contracting Officer does not comply with the specifications, shall be rejected. The products of any recognized manufacturer, regularly engaged in his commercial production, shall not be excluded on the basis of minor differences, as long as he is in compliance with specification requirements concerning materials, capacity, and performance.
4. Form No. 3816 "Material Submittals" shall be used for submitting information on materials, accessories, or equipment. All correspondence shall be addressed to the Contracting Officer indicating the contract number and title.
5. Submittal of information on materials, accessories and/or equipment may be done by sending the documentation to the e-mail address designated by the ACP or by personally delivering the documentation to the established physical address. If the documentation is delivered in person to the physical address, the Contractor shall submit only one (1) copy of each document (unless otherwise indicated).
6. If the information is delivered in person to the physical address, it is understood that the Contractor has submitted all the required information at the time the Form 3816 is presented and sealed by the ACP. If the information is sent via e-mail, the documentation shall be considered as received at the time the e-mail containing the Form 3816 is received in the inbox designated by the ACP for that purpose. 7. Samples:
 - a. The Contractor shall submit all the samples of materials required in the specifications within a reasonable period of time prior to their use, to allow for their inspection and testing thereof. Those samples of materials that require laboratory testing shall need, in general, a minimum of twenty (20) calendar days for testing once they are received by the Contracting Officer. However, a longer period of time may be needed depending on the nature of the required testing or the capacity of the testing laboratory to perform the tests.

- b. All samples, in the sizes and quantities required by the Contracting Officer or by the specifications, shall be submitted (unless otherwise stated by the Contracting Officer) properly identified with the contract number, the clause corresponding to the specifications, the name of the material, trade name, name of manufacturer, place of origin, name and location of the project where the material will be used and the name of the Contractor furnishing the sample.
 - c. The samples shall be packed in such a way as to guarantee that they arrive at their destination in good conditions, and all transportation and handling costs shall be prepaid by the sender.
 - d. Upon approval, those material samples not subject to destructive tests shall be filed at the office of the Contracting Officer until the project has been completed, with the exception of samples of accessories or other items approved by the Contracting Officer, which may be marked for identification and installation at the site of the project. Should the Contractor desire to keep an approved sample for his files, he shall submit sufficient additional samples to permit the required distribution. Any approved or rejected samples shall be returned only at the request of the Contractor, and any cost associated with returning the samples shall be paid by the Contractor.
 - e. The samples selected shall be subject to testing in accordance with the requirements of applicable specifications. If a sample fails to meet the specification requirements, the cost of the testing shall be at the Contractor's expense. The Authority reserves itself the right to reject samples of materials from any manufacturer whose previous samples failed to pass the tests required by the specifications.
8. Submittals of Materials, Accessories, and/or Equipment:
Each submittal of material, accessories, and/or equipment shall be accompanied by its respective form (Panama Canal Authority Form 3816), completed in full and certified by the Contractor. To the extent possible, only one form shall be submitted with all the information relative to each section of the specification, but under no circumstances shall one form be submitted providing information on more than one section of the specifications. Each copy of the information submitted for approval shall be properly identified with the number and name of the section of the specifications, the corresponding material or equipment, and the contract number under which the submittal is made. Should

- a. As soon as the materials, accessories, and/or equipment submittals have been approved, the documentation shall be identified with a stamped seal indicating “Approved” or “Approved with Notes” and a set of copies shall be returned to the Contractor via e-mail (digital form) or hand-carried, according to the way the information was originally submitted by the Contractor. The submittal of materials, accessories, and/or equipment that have been approved in this manner shall not require re-submittal. However, if the Authority rejects the submitted documentation, these materials, accessories, and/or equipment shall be re-submitted as soon as possible with the necessary corrections and/or adjustments required by the Contracting Officer. If the Contractor desires to have more than one (1) copy returned to him, he shall increase the number of copies submitted in person in equal proportion, indicating his request in writing on the submittal form 3816. The ACP shall consider that the Contractor has been notified, at the time the ACP sends the documentation back via e-mail
- b. The approval of materials, accessories, and/or equipment submittals by the Contracting Officer does not represent, under any circumstances, a complete review of the items, but only indicates that, in general, the materials, equipment, system, arrangements, details, and/or methods of construction are satisfactory. Such approval does not relieve the Contractor from responsibility for any error or omission, which may exist, and the Contractor shall be responsible for the dimensions and design of adequate connections, details, proper construction, installation, and operation of all the work according to specifications. The approval shall be subject to a final inspection prior to acceptance of the project.

4.28.43. AS-BUILT DRAWINGS.

1. During the progress of work, the Contractor shall keep a complete set of contract drawings on which he shall record all changes and corrections made to the information shown on the drawings initially furnished by the Contractor.
2. This set of updated drawings shall be available at the work site at all times. Should the Contracting Officer determine that the drawings are not up to date, the Contracting Officer may suspend the performance of those segments of the work where the changes or corrections have not been incorporated into the set of drawings. Any costs or delays resulting from the Contracting Officer's decision shall be borne by the Contractor.

CONTRACT FOR THE PROCUREMENT OF GOODS AND SERVICES OF THE AUTORIDAD DEL CANAL DE PANAMA AND ATTACHMENT

3. Upon completion of work, the Contractor shall provide the Contracting Officer one set of contract drawings with all changes or corrections recorded or marked so that the work may reflect the "as-built" condition. This set of drawings marked "as-built" shall be submitted to the Contracting Officer prior to the acceptance of work. All revisions and changes made shall be made in such a manner that they stand out when viewed against the information originally provided.

4.28.44. RESTRICTED AREAS.

(For construction contracts in the Canal area).

1. Contractor employees shall need special installation clearances for access to restricted areas (such as locks, electrical power stations, water purification plants, pumping stations, and industrial areas). The Authority will process these clearances at no additional cost to the Contractor. The Contractor shall furnish a list of employees to the Contracting Officer at least fifteen (15) calendar days prior to the initiation of work. This list shall have the complete names, in alphabetical order, of employees together with their cedula or identification card number.
2. Contractor employees shall carry their cedula or identification cards at all times and show them when requested by authorized Authority personnel. The Contractor shall insure that employees stay within the work areas and do not wander indiscriminately about in other places within restricted areas.

4.28.45. SUBCONTRACTORS.

(For construction contracts in the Canal area).

1. If the main Contractor has awarded subcontracts for the performance of the contract work within this contract, he shall fill out the Subcontractor form and submit it for approval to the Contracting Officer within fifteen (15) calendar days after award of the contract to the main Contractor. The form shall contain the name and address of the subcontractor, a brief description of the work to be performed under the subcontract, and an outline of the subcontractor's experience in the type of work subcontracted. In case the Contracting Officer considers that the experience described is inadequate for the work to be performed, the Contracting Officer shall notify the main Contractor so that the subcontract may be rescinded. Subcontractors who in turn subcontract out work shall be subject to this regulation and approval procedure.
2. Under no circumstances shall a contractual relationship exist between subcontractors and the Authority. The Contractor shall be responsible for all the activities of the subcontractors and for the fulfillment of the obligations derived from his work and from the subcontracts. The Contractor shall be responsible to the Authority for work performed by his subcontractors, as if he had performed the work himself.

3. The Authority shall maintain no direct relations with the subcontractors. The Authority shall issue all orders and correspondence directly to the Contractor, who shall insure their immediate transmission to the subcontractors. The Contractor shall avoid delays in relaying the information to his subcontractors, as the Authority will only be concerned with the date when the order was given to the Contractor as the effective date of the order.

4.28.46. SITE INVESTIGATIONS AND CONDITIONS AFFECTING THE WORK.

(For construction contracts in the Canal area).

1. The Contractor acknowledges that he has taken all reasonable measures necessary to ascertain the nature and location of the work, and to have investigated to his entire satisfaction the general and local conditions that may affect the work or the cost of contract performance, including but not limited to:
 - a. Conditions relating to transportation, disposal, handling, and storage of materials;

 - c. Uncertainties concerning weather, bodies of water, or any other similar physical conditions at the work site;

 - e. The type of equipment and facilities required before and during the execution of the work.
2. The Contractor also accepts the conditions with respect to the type, quality, and quantity of surface and subsurface material or obstacles to be found, which have been verified through an inspection of the site, including all exploratory information supplied by the Authority, as well as information shown on the drawings and the specifications that are a part of this contract. Any failure on the Contractor's part to take the actions described and accepted in this clause shall not relieve the Contractor of any responsibility to properly estimate the difficulty and cost involved to successfully complete the project at no additional cost to the Authority.
3. The Authority assumes no responsibility for any conclusion or interpretation made by the Contractor based on the information furnished by the Authority, nor does it assume any responsibility for any comment, statement, or interpretation of the same, made before the start of the project, by any of its officers or agents concerning the conditions that may affect the work, unless such comment, statement, or interpretation was expressly included in the contract.

The Inspector may require any tests considered necessary to confirm that the work has been properly performed.

3. The inspection or lack thereof on the part of the Authority shall not relieve the Contractor from his obligation to execute the work in strict conformance with the specification requirements, nor shall this constitute or imply in itself the acceptance of the work, and shall not affect the rights of the Authority once the work is accepted. The Contractor shall not be entitled to any form of compensation as a result of the performance and/or failure of such tests, or because of the rejection of materials and/or equipment resulting from the failure of any tests. The Authority shall perform all inspections and testing in such manner

The acceptance shall be final and conclusive, except for redhibitory defects, fraud, and/or the rights of the Authority under any guarantee. The time transpired to perform corrective work on defects shall be counted as a delay in the completion of the project. The Authority shall not allow an extension for the completion of the work due to such delay.

(For construction contracts).

1. The Authority shall only accept work that conforms to the specifications, terms, and conditions of the contract.
